THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

Less greedy pulling and hauling over a four mile separation in city boundaries may get the Necada City-Grass Valley district some marked benefits. Gil Cramer, prominent and active in the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce, at a recent joint meeting of Lions and Rotarians in Nevada City, advocated that everybody get behind the Nevada City Airport.

It was really something to hear. As a matter of fact there has never been any outcry raised because Watt Park is to be the home of the Nevada County Fair for years to come. It was the best place to be had for the county fair and everyone with a modicum of commonsense heartily approved the location. Now, if the Nevada City Airport is the best spot to have a twin city airport, let us have it there. Air travel and air freighting are making rapid development everywhere. It is going to be mighty important that the two cities have a common airport, big enough to land medium sized planes for feeder lines in both passenger and freight air traffic. Two engined planes are landing there now..

So far there has been no union meeting of the Grass Valley and Nevada City Chambers of Commerce to discuss this very important project. It is time there was one. Other communities in the Second Congressional District are being allocated federal money to help out with their airports. We in Western Nevada County are left high and dry, with nary a red cent of the federal money made forthcoming, for the reason that the two cities have not yet agreed on an airport.

Grass Valley is now taking advantage of the situation created by the state law which now requires cities without sewage disposal plants to install them. At a recent election in South East Grass Valley on an area of 40 acres, about 60 families residing there voted themselves into the corporate city of Grass Valley. The reason they did so was to receive the benefits of the new sewage system, as well as fire and police protection, city care for their streets, and other advantages.

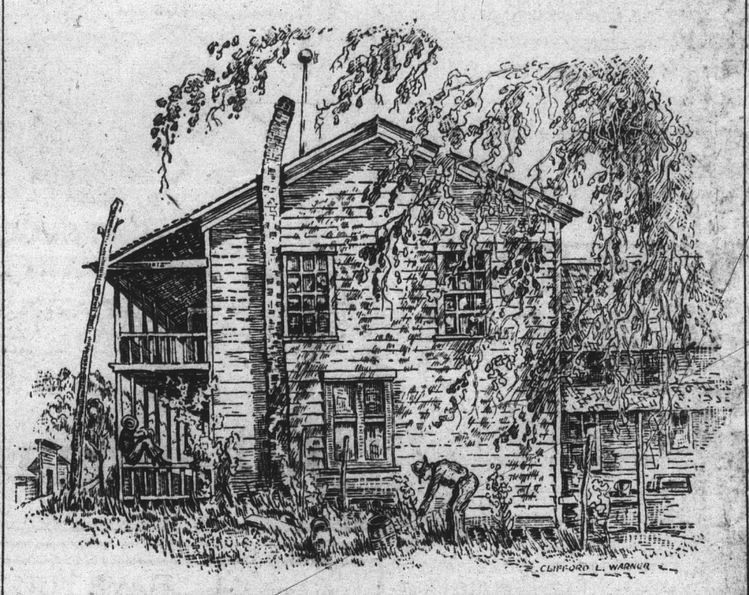
There are several other suburban areas adjoining Grass Valley that are now considering annexation. The Grass Valley city council sometime ago let be known that suburbabn areas which paid no city taxes would to unite in the future to call ppon the city for police and fire protection. This was a reasonable condition to make. For, indeed, why should taxpayers in a city support services for those without the city boundaries who paid nothing toward city expenses?

We are firmly convinced that Nevada City should adopt a similar policy and at the same time do a little missionary work among the residence areas outside the city limits. Soon a new sewage disposal plant will be built. Steps toward this end are now being taken. There is to be no more private or public discharge of sewage into the streams. Those residence sections adjoining the city should immediately circulate a petition for annexation to Nevada City for the same reasons that Southeast Grass Valley last week joined the city. The benefits the city can confer in its several services to neighborhoods such as those lying adjacent to Nevada City, will far outweigh any of the advantage in taxes now enjoyed by them..

We believe that "growing pains" will be much less now than later when such residence sections find the sewage system completed with no allowance having been made for their advent into the city community. We believe the logic of the Grass Valley cit ycouncil in efusing fire and police protection to those who pay nothing for it, should be followed by the Nevada City council.

And by all means let us, in Nevada City and Grass Valley, cooperate in those improvements which are for our common benefit. Take the patrols off Shaw's Hill and Town Talk..

Rough and Ready Hotel to Open With All '49er Charm Retained



ROUGH AND READY HOTEL

"In the bully roaring town that earned its name of Rough and Ready men used to entertain themselves in lusty drinking in the saloons, used to curse and gamble and brawl and pick themselves up again with another drink. The name of the town was once spread far and wide by the roughness of its men and the wildness of its painted women. Men carried guns and used them.. Now in Rough and Ready not much is left of the pioneer licentiousness. Every Thursday night for a long time the citizens have gathered en masse in the Odd Fellows hall for a whist party. Last time they had eighteen tables."—(Quoted from Sketches of the Gold County).

ROUGH AND READY: It was announced Friday that Mr. and Mrs. Pat Shannon of the Shannon River Ranch in the Indian Springs district, have purchased from Mrs. Nettie V. Vroman, the Rough and Ready Hotel. Title search of the property has been ordered.

The Rough and Ready Hotel, dating back, reportedly to 1853, was for many decades of the gold rush era, the center of a tumultous community that at one time seceded from the United States and established a republic. Rough and Ready once vied with Nevada City for honor of becoming the county seat.

It is proposed in renovating the old hotel to preserve carefully all the features that mark it for it is, one of the surviving structures of the Argonauts.

SUPERVISORS AGREE ON LAND EXCHANGE

NEVADA CITY: The county board of supervisors have approved an exchange of land, between the Southern Pacific Company and the Tahoe National Forest, under which the latter gives a deed to 30acres near the Summit on Highway 40, in exchange for land in Placer County. The transaction has been approved by the two contracting parties but also had to be approved by the supervisors of Placer and Nevada counties.

The 30 acres had been improved and used by the Southern Pacific for many years under a lease arrangement with the forest service.

CONTRACT FOR HIGHWAY 49 SECTION AWARDED

NEVADA CITY: Word has been received by Forest Supervisor Guerdon Ellis of the Tahoe National Forest that the low bid for construction of another section of Highway 49 was submitted by Westbrook and Pope Construction Company of Sacramento. This contract will cover the 2.6 mile portion between North San Juan and the Middle Fork of the Yuba River which joins the section from Yuba River to Wilson's Cabin completed last summer and the secion between Wilson's Cabin and Gold Pan Lodge now nearing completion.

The contract is to be awarded by the Washington office of the Public Roads Administration and will be financed from forest highway funds.

This leaves only 2.8 miles of highway 49 to be completed between North San Juan and the Sierra County line. This is also programmed for 1947.

Some 50 million board feet of lumber and logs as well as heavy recreation traffic move over Highway 49 annually.

METHODISTS IN TRIBUTE TO MISS E. M. WATSON

NEVADA CITY: The official board of the Methodist Church in their monthly meeting last night, Thursday, February 6th, signed a resolution of appreciation for Miss Elizabeth McD. Watson. The wording is as follows:

"We, the members of the official bzoard of the Methodist Church of Nevada City, in consideation of the announcement recently published that the Nevada City Sanitarium was bout to close its doors, and that Miss Elizabeth Mc D. Watson, R. N., who for more years than most of us can remember has served this community and region in her profession as nurse and director of this beloved hospital, was to retire, take this occasion to greet Miss Watson with the recognition due her.

"We would recognize her long years of proficient and sacraficial service as being of the highest order of Christian ministry, inasmuch as the healing ministry of our Savior was an essential and inseparable part of the expression of his live and compassion for the multitudes.

"We would acknowledge her loyal devotion and support of the church throughout these many years. We would express our sincere regret that it now becomes necessary for Miss Watson to lay down the heavier burdens of this beautiful work, but would also assure her of our sincere wishes and earnest prayers that her life, health and strength may be sustained so that, with the measure of these blessings granted her, she may continue in the life work she loves, and abide in the enjoyment of the high esteem and abounding gratitude which all of us, and her host of friends hold for her."

SOLARO ASKS POLICE SALARY INCREASE

NEVADA CITY: The Nevada City council has agreed to give consideration to a request for another increase in the salaries of the three policemen on the city force. Chief of Police Max Solaro stated that it was hard to keep competent men on the force at the present salary of $180 per month. He also requested an increase in the salary of the city judge.

The council will meet within the next few days to consider an increase in the license fees now charged businesses. A new water pump, it was agreed, will be purchased for truck No. 2 of the fire department.

SUPERVISORS TO HOLD HEARING ON LUMBER SLASH

The Nevada County Board of Supervisors have appointed their March meeting for a hearing on a proposed ordinance requiring sawmill owners and loggers to remove slashings.

Guerdon Ellis, supervisor of Tahoe National Forest, appeared before the board and pointed out the hazards that slashings add to the fire season each year and especially mentioned those in Deer Creek Canyon. The supervisors were requested to pass the ordinance, but decided to ask the lumbermen interested to come to a hearing on the matter, before adopting it.

CHALLENGE

Who has the best basketball team—the Rotary or the Lions?

The gauntlet has been thrown n the den of the Lions by the Rotary and the challenge has been accepted.

Late in February "The Battle of the Century" will take place in the high school gym. Bob Tamblyn of the Rotary, former basketball star, suggests that the players who aren't as young as they used to be to start getting a few of the kinks out in preparation for the game.

Harry Clayton, of the Lions says his men need no practice—that they are young enough to be able to take it and expect to win by a 25 point margin.

But both service organizations are sure of one winner—the Nevada City Chapter of theAmerican Red Cross as the entire proceeds of the big game will go into the coffers of the 1947 fund drive.

GEORGE NEAGLE SUCCUMBS

NEVADA CITY: Friends have received word that George Neagle, born in this city 64 years ago, died Saturday morning in an Oakland hospital. Funeral services were held this morning in Oakland.

Neagle was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Neagle, early day residents of Nevada City. For many years he was express agent here. He had been employed by the Unted Air Lines in Oakland for several years.

Surviving are his wife Mrs. Edith Thomas Neagle, a son, George Jr., and a daughter, Bauhoffer, all of Oakland.

Holmes funeral home will have charge of graveside services here tomorrow.

The deceased was a member of Hydraulic Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, of this city.

THREE AUTOS CRASH; ONE HURT

GRASS VALLEY: A three car collision closed the Auburn-Grass Valley highway near the Bullion Mine Saturday night for almost an hour. Mrs. Catherine Negrinotti, passenger in one of the cars, suffered a leg injury for whicih she is being treated in a local hospital.

Farley Taylor, of Route 1, Box 667 A, Grass Valley, driving north ran out of gas and left his car partly in the roadway. Highway patrolmen report that Lawrence Loramg of Nevada City with his mother in law, Mrs. Negrinotti traveling north at a fast rate collided with the stalled car, glanced off into the middle of the road and met a car driven by Leonard White of Grass Valley, headon. All three cars were badly damaged, but Mrs. Negrinotti, 51, was the only one seriously injured.

MORE PICKETS

GRASS VALLEY: Tahoe Cafe on West Main Street is being picketed by Culinary Workers Union. The cafe was sold a few days ago and when the new owner opened it yesterday two pickets were placed before the door.

This is the second restaurant to be picketed by the union. The first was the Valley Grill which has now been picketed by the same union for 20 weeks.

GRASS VALLEY CIVIC LEADER SUPPORTS NEVADA CITY AIRPORT

NEVADA CITY: "Let's all of us get behind the Nevada City airport as a county-wide project," said Gil Cramer of Grass Valley at the Rotary-Lions joint meeting at the National Hotel last Thursday night. This suggestion of inter-city cooperation was only one of several that Cramer made to the first combined meeting of the two Nevada City service organizations.

Cramer stated that only in supporting each town's most feasible projects and joining in the interest of single projects would the two communities be able to show real progress. He pointed out that Grass Valle is soon to start permanent district fair buildings that will enable the entire county to benefit therefrom. Nevada City, he believes should whole heartily support the fair project while Grass Valley in turn should recignize the superiority of the Nevada City airport..

A project of combined interest urged support of a joint school district with its obvious improved standards in teaching and in athletic teams.

Cramer pointed out that a large airport located on the plateau above Nevada City would be of real value to commercial airlines during periods of fog and winter weather. "Truly", he said, "our slogan of above the fog and below the snow" would be of real value if put to practical use in providing a haven for pilots during bad weather in a fifty mile radius."

The speaker says there is no doubt in his mind that Nevada County will continue to have a substantial population growth and that only by forgetting imaginary inter-cit barriers can we benefit in a manner befitting our possibilities.

The Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce is in receopt of a letter inferring that these two towns "were asleep at the switch" in not applying for federal aid for airport construction Investigation has shown that Grass Valley does not own its airport and while the City of Nevada does own its airport ederal money is granted when matched in some degree by local funds. Sevaral other communities in the second congressional district have already been recommended for federal aid in airport construction but Nevada City and Grass Valley, due to lack of unity in selecting a single site have so far been bypassed for federal aid until such times that a site cn be agreed upon.

Rotary President Bob Tamblyn presided over the meeting and was assisted by Lions President Harry Clayton. The program to sponsor better inter-city relations was arranged by Frank Finnegan.

In checking with the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber through its Preident George Hansen and its Secretary Si Soge objects to anyone writing that Nevada City "has been asleep at the switch"—and points with pride to the work that was accomplished at the local airport in 1946—with over $4000 spent in improvements.

GIRL STABBER GETS PROBATION

NEVADA CITY: Lucille Evans, 17, who confessed accault wth a letter opener on Floyd E. Fuller, 21, was given a year's probation when she appeared in court Friday.

The appearance before Judge James Snell was an aftermath of a drinking bout that began at Le[illegible] Meadows dance hall last Sunday morning and continued to the business district of Grass Valley where the stabbing took place..

Fuller received wounds in the back and was taken to the county hospital. He will recover..

YOUTH RECREATION PLANS DANCE MARCH FIRST

NEVADA CITY: The Nevada City Recreation Council met in executive session at the Chamber of Commerce room Friday night to discuss the legal aspects of the organization and to plan for a fund raising dance on March 1.

Ward Sheldon assisted in starting the necessary legal machinery in setting up the group dedicated to youth betterment activities in Nevada City.

Mrs. Ward Sheldon is chairman of the March 1 dance and will be helped by Ruth and Charles Veale, Helen Scribner, Harold Benliner and Robert Paine.

CAROL CHOIR REORGANIZES TO SING 49ER SONGS

GRASS VALLEY: At a meeting in the Methodist Church the Grass Valley Carol Choir which usually sings only for the Christmas holiday season, was reorganized and will sing during the Centennial years as the Grass Valley Gold Miners Choir..

Officers of the Carol Choir were chosen as officers of the gold miners choir. President is Jack Nankervis; secretary, Jack Gilbert; treasurer, Will T. George and director, Harold George.

Archie and Bill Tremewan offered the choir a song, that miners of the first quartz mining days, late in the 1850s used to sing while working in the depths of the earth. Harold George, the director proposes to obtain the four parts for the song and make it the theme song of the group in singing during the Centennial celebration. Two tenative engagements have already been accepted. First the choir will sing over the 49er Broadcasting Company's radio station when it is established and in June the choir will sing in Stockton during the annual Methodist conference of ministers.

MRS. ETHEL BUCK NAMED IN SUIT

NEVADA CITY: Clifford Nicholls a minor aged 5 years, and his mother, Mrs. Margie Moore as guardian ad litem, yesterday filed suit for $15,748.50 damages against Mrs. Ethel May Heether Buck, as result of injuries allegedly suffered by the boy when Mrs. Bucks car collided with the boy's bicycle on October 9, 1946.

The accident, according to the complaint, occured at the corner of Gethsemane and South Pine Streets. The boy, the plaintiff recites, suffered broken finger bones, a broken jaw, and the loss of several teeth. Hospital bills, dental surgery and physicians care are included in the actual damages of $748.50. The $15,000 asked is for general damages.

SKI ACCIDENT

NEVADA CITY: Dick Gregory, recently of the U. S. Navy and who was aboard the U. S. Missouri when the Japs surrendered, is in a local hospital sufferin[illegible] from a fractured leg resulting from a fall while skiing last Sunday in the Sugar Bowl at the Summit.

Since his discharge Gregory has been employed at the Sugar Bowl tow lines. He was demonstrating for group of skiers when the toe of his ski caught in a snow hole. Immediate first aid administered and he was removed to the hospital here.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder about weather gods,
Who in and out of season,
Bring samples of their wares to us,
Sans rhyme and also reason.
I wonder about their chilly snow
And when it slips and sloshes,
I wonder where in heavens name
I left my old galoshes.

I presume that most of us, have, at one time or another, looked with critical eyes upon our mundane habitation and felt, with old Omar, that we should like to "grasp the sorry scheme of things entire and mold it nearer to our heart's desire."

This primitive urge was once the subject of a conversation between Henry Ward Beecher and Robert Ingersol; said Robert; "If I had the power, I could change many things about this universe and make it a better place in which to live."

Beecher laughed; "what changes would you make Bob?"

"Well," Ingersol replied, "the first thing I would do, would be to make health contagious instead of illness."

I don't know what reply Beecher made to that iconoclastic remark, but neither he nor we can consistently quarrel with it. It would be jolly to go out and catch an attack of perfect health and there is no use denying it.

I think most of us would be able to make constructive suggestions if the forces which govern this universe were to lend us their ears. I for one would mention the fact that I'm allergic to snow. A few days ago when the beautiful began falling upon us, and we were finally measuring inches of dehydrated water and looking forward uneasily to the melting thereof. I thought why send the rain in this cold and slithery form? Melt it and what do we get? Just water; so why can't we get it in aqueous form and so avoid the trouble and inconvenience of the melting process?

Men have never been satisfied with this little mud ball called earth and they have been tinkering with it ever since they appeared upon its surface. Men have been inventing, discvering, readjusting and revamping it for ages past. It is a far better world but still it needs improving. Franklin thought that lightning was taking too many liberties of attack. "so he fastened a rod to the steeple and now when the lightning comes down, he keeps it from church and from people by runing it into the gound." Edison thought the world was poorly lighted and we all know how he solved that problem; these are two examples; we can readily think of scores of others which have added greatly to the comfort and happiness of mankind; we would be quite lost if we were suddenly deprived of the successes wrought by tinkering. Let's go on from here; there are numberless discveries yet to be made, more comforts and conveniences to be evolved. We want these as yet unknown blessings—we need them, so wasting no time in quarreling with one another, let's sharpen our brains and produce the essentials of fine and joyous living and transform this old world into something akin to the heaven of our dreams.—Adeline Merriam Conner..

NEVADA CITY CAGERS SCORE DOUBLE VICTORY

At half time in the varsity game Nevada City led Marysville by 24 to 20. In the Bee game the local quint led Marysville at half time by 17 to 10.

Bob Williams, Nevada City varsity forward was high man with 14 points and for Marysville Bill Foreman, forward, scored 13 baskets.

Nevada Citys hi'gh Bee player was Don Amos, center, scoring 15 beskets while high pointer for Marysville's Bees was Frank Hutchinson, forward, with 13 baskets.

CHAMBER HEARS PLANS FOR MAJOR IMPROVEMENT

GRASS VALLEY: The Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce, meeting at luncheon in Bret Harte Inn, heard the report of Larry Myers, chairman of the plans and projects committee, outlining some of the major improvements proposed for this year..

One of the improvements discussed was the widening of Stewart Street. Acquisition by the city of the Grass Valley airfield, now belonging to Lyman Gilmore, pioneer aviation experimenter, was debated.

The chamber decided that as soon as the date of opening of the trout fishing season in this area is determined by the legislature, it will declare another of-fish--all holiday for that day.

THIS VENISON COST MORE THAN BEEFSTEAK

NEVADA CITY: Two deer hunters, arrested by Game Warden Earl Hiscox and charged with having venison unlawfully in their possession each were fined $25 by Justice of the Peave Gildersleeve on their pleading guilty.

The two were Ray Fontz of Grass Valley, found with a carcass of a spike buck in his possession and Joseph Souza, on whose premises a carcass of a doe was discovered. The game waden stated that both kills were made in North Bloomfield where Souza resides.

PTA Celebrates Golden Anniversary

NEVADA CITY: Six of the seven past presidents of Elementary Parent Teachers Association were present Friday afternoon, February 7th, when the association celebrated the golden anniversary of the associations founding. The local unit was organized here in 1931.

The six past presidents participating in the festivities, were Mesdames William Perry, Edward Moomey, Leonard Lageson, Leland Smith, Dorothy Gwin and Adele Steurtevant.

Rube Lagerstrom gave an interesting address on the use of germicidal damps. Mrs. Thornton Scribner reported that twelve members had taken advantage of the Red Cross home nursing classes just ending.

Mrs. Leland Smith and Mrs. Leonard Lageson presided at the tea table which was gorgeously decorated in golden colors and flowers.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Scribner, chairman, Mrs. Mabel Flindt, Mrs. Clarence Jenkins and Mrs. Leslie Orzalli, was appointed.

MARRIED BY JUDGE

NEVADA CITY: Judge James Snell on Saturday morning performed his first wedding ceremony since taking office as superior judge.

Mary Lou Rivera, 18, and James Coulton, 25, both of Grass Valley were married. Attendants were Miss Bernice Clemo and J. E. Rivera, brother of the bride.

NEVADA CITY: Troop Number 6, Boy Scouts of America, has called attenton to Scout Week by arranging an excellent camping scene in the window of the Alpha Hardware.. The scene shows complete and correct camping equipment with tent, campfire, sleeping bag and suspended sling to keep food away from ground animals.

The display was made by Scouts Normie Hoskins, Cy Rollins, Joe Swayze, Hans Ronningen and Don Rawlins. Troop 6 meets every Thursday night at Scout Lodge in Pioneer Park.

Both local troops of Boy Scouts will due community service and will receive scout credit on March 1 when in conjunction with the Red Cross drive they will deliver a picture message to every Nevada City doorstep oncerning 1947 Red Cross campaign.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

TALK ON SOUTH AMERICA IS GIVEN

Mr. Botz, who has spent a number of years in South America, spoke on Central and South America at the high school Tuesday. He told of many interesting customs and sports of these countries. Besides answering questions on the cities and customs of the Americas, he explained how coffee a nd other natural resources of the countries were prepared for shipment to other nations.

The Junior class of NCHS received their class rings Thursday. The majority of the rings are white gold with the usual 49'er emblem in the center. A few students selected yellow gold and some others chose black onyx.

Plans For National Guard Armories Before Legislature

SACRAMENTO: Plans for a California National Guard armory building program to be initiated with a $5,000,000 appropriation have been submitted to the legislature, Brig. Gen. Curtis D. O'Sullivan the state adjutant general disclosed today.

Appropriation of $5,000,000 for new armory construction throughout the state was recommended as a part of California's postwar construction program by Governor Earl Warren in his presentation of the budget last week.

The program calls for construction of armories varying in size from those housing a single guard unit to headquarters armories which will house a complete battalion and regimental, brigade, or division headquarters.
